

WEEK 2-3

Chengdu American Center

A Glimpse into Classes

Over the past two weeks, classes have been going smoothly at the G-MEO Chengdu American Center. Students got to adjust their course selections based on their interests and academic degree requirements. In some classes, the students have been working in groups and giving presentations.

Fundamentals of International Business class

Students from World Music class giving presentations

Traveling with friends. Our students are living their best lives!

Mid-Autumn Festival

We just celebrated the Mid-Autumn Festival, one of the biggest festivals in China. Studying at G-MEO this Fall allows our students to spend this holiday at home and with their family and friends. Some of our students left Chengdu and went back to their hometowns to celebrate the holiday. Some other students traveled together to western Sichuan to enjoy the beautiful scenery. Thanks to the good weather, the students who stayed in Chengdu also appreciated the big full moon shining in downtown Chengdu.

The moon in Chengdu during the Mid-Autumn Festival! (Photo credit to one of our students)

Bubble Tea Afternoon

During the second week, we prepared dozens of cups of bubble tea with various flavors in the office. The students got to stop by the office between classes and have some sweets and refreshments! We look forward to more dessert-and-drinks days coming up this semester!

The brave boys and girls!

Picking their favorite flavors!

Escape Room

Our students love the escape room activities! This past weekend, our students formed four groups and went to three different escape rooms to play this interesting and exciting game. While some of them played the non-horror ones, some other students played the extreme horror ones which included Non-Player Characters, intense chasing and running, and a haunting and terrifying atmosphere. They also went to have dinner together and continued socializing after playing the game!

Student Voice

"Since joining the G-MEO Chengdu program, I was surprised by the leisurely life pace here. I cherish my experience studying and living here. In our classes, all the professors are highly educated and always care about us, which makes me feel the charm of international education. We are more like friends. The activities are also rich, especially the escape room which young people play a lot nowadays. Studying at G-MEO Chengdu not only enables me to make academic achievements, but I am also able to make many valuable friends among my classmates and professors. All these will become valuable experiences I will treasure in my life."

--Jingtian Liu, Business Administration major,
Sophomore from American University

Voice from Faculty Representative

"It's definitely a pleasure to teach at G-MEO! The staff team is very helpful, supportive, and responsive! Although the teaching environment is a bit different from that of a classroom, the students and I have no trouble adapting to the environment. In fact, it's always nice to experience different work environments. I hope the students are enjoying my class and will continue to enjoy the class throughout the semester!"